

A large section of the page containing multiple sets of horizontal lines. Each set consists of a thick black top line, a thin gray middle line, and a thick black bottom line, providing a template for musical notation.